

Voyageur Commences Drilling on Frances Creek High Grade Barite Deposit

Calgary, Alberta: July 10, 2017 –Voyageur Minerals Ltd. (TSXV-VM) (the “Company”)
Announces drilling has commenced on its 100% owned Frances Creek industrial barite deposit. A 2000 meter drilling program will target two known zones of barite and will infill drill between these zones. There has been over 2000m of successful historical drilling on this deposit.

Past historical work by the former owners identified barite from over 2000m of core drilling. Currently there is an indicated strike length of over 600m and the vein was drilled to a vertical depth of 90m. The deposit is open in all directions.

After independent review of historical drill core from the previous 2000m drill program the geologist (QP) estimated Frances Creek in-situ resource range from 53,856 tonnes to 215,422 tonnes @ 95.86% to 99.26 % BaSO₄ . There has been insufficient exploration to define a mineral reserve and it is uncertain if further exploration will result in the target being delineated as a mineral reserve.

The objective of the current 2000m drilling program is to produce a barite reserve report based on the combined total of 4000m of drilling. If the drilling is successful, the report will lead into a mining feasibility study for 2018 production.

About Voyageur Minerals

Voyageur is a Calgary based company which owns 100% interest in three Barium Sulfate ("Barite") deposits including two properties which initial work suggests are suitable in grade for the industrial barite market place, and interests in two high grade lithium brine projects in Utah, USA. Voyageur's business plan is to develop its barite deposit at Frances Creek, BC, Canada, for potential near term cash flow, while it continues exploration for critical and strategic minerals.
